

long-horizon architecture task the unit of evaluation is the loop across time, not one prompt response success means an architect can accept, reject, or escalate from preserved evidence